

---

Bargaining update

Unfortunately, negotiations have ground to a halt tonight. The government has dug in on their position, and has shown no movement on our key issues, especially wages and remote work.

They think they can wait you out – they’re testing you, and they think you’re going to give up. But we’re going to keep holding the line and fighting for better. You deserve to keep up with inflation, and they don’t believe it.

Let’s keep up the pressure and continue to escalate our actions across the country tomorrow.

Solidarity across platforms

Over the last 7 days, more than 100,000 of you have joined us on the picket lines. But that’s not the only place you’re showing solidarity!

- You’re making lots of new friends with 13,782 new followers on Facebook.
- 5,420 new followers on Instagram
- Our tweets have been seen 5.7 million times on Twitter
- And you want to see yourself in the action with 8,212,854 total Flickr views

Top Media Hits

Global News: PSAC strike enters Day 6. Here’s what you need to know

-

CBC Power & Politics: Federal public service worker strike enters Day 6

-

The Tyee: From the Picket Line: What’s at Stake in the Big Strike

-

CityNews: Striking public servants block access to government buildings and key infrastructure

It's time to... STRIKE. FOR YOUR LIFE:

An homage to Drag Race picket signs

We've fallen in love with ALL the creative picket signs and fantastic costumes on the lines, but the drag signs have us swooning!

Flip through our Flickr account and find your friends (and maybe yourself too!).

Keep an eye on your phone and our national website for updates.

Public Service Alliance of Canada

233 Gilmour Street, Ottawa, Ontario K2P 0P1

Jobs with PSAC